"We were told that streaming in Ontario schools by social class, race and gender was a thing of the past.

This book shows it's still with us and what we should be doing about it."

Join us for a discussion about streaming in Ontario schools, and to celebrate the launch of an exciting new book Restacking the Deck: Streaming by race, class and gender in Ontario schools written by David Clandfield, Bruce Curtis, Alison Gaymes San Vicente, Grace-Edward Galabuzi, D.W. Livingstone, and Harry Smaller. Most authors will be present, and books will be available for purchase.
